

TEN LITTLE

SUFFERGETS

Ten little Suffergets—
SUCH a naughty line:
One gets a whipping,
And then there are nine.

Nine little Suffergets,
Finding boys to hate:
One kisses Willie Jones,
And then there are eight.

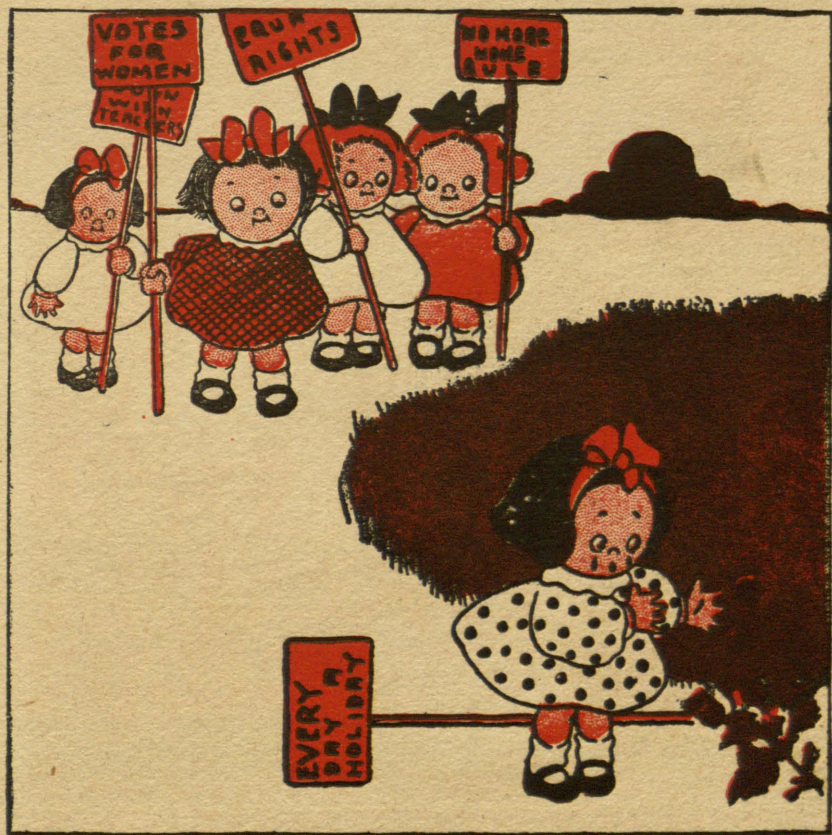

Eight little Suffergets
Hunt for wings to Heaven:
One spies a tailor's goose,
And then there are seven.

Seven little Suffergetts,
Fond of funny tricks:
One gobbles all the cakes,
And then there are six.

Six little Suffergets
Love no doll alive:
One sees her dolly DEAD,
And then there are five.

Five little Suffergets
Newest plays adore:
One plays with stinging nettles,
Then there are four.

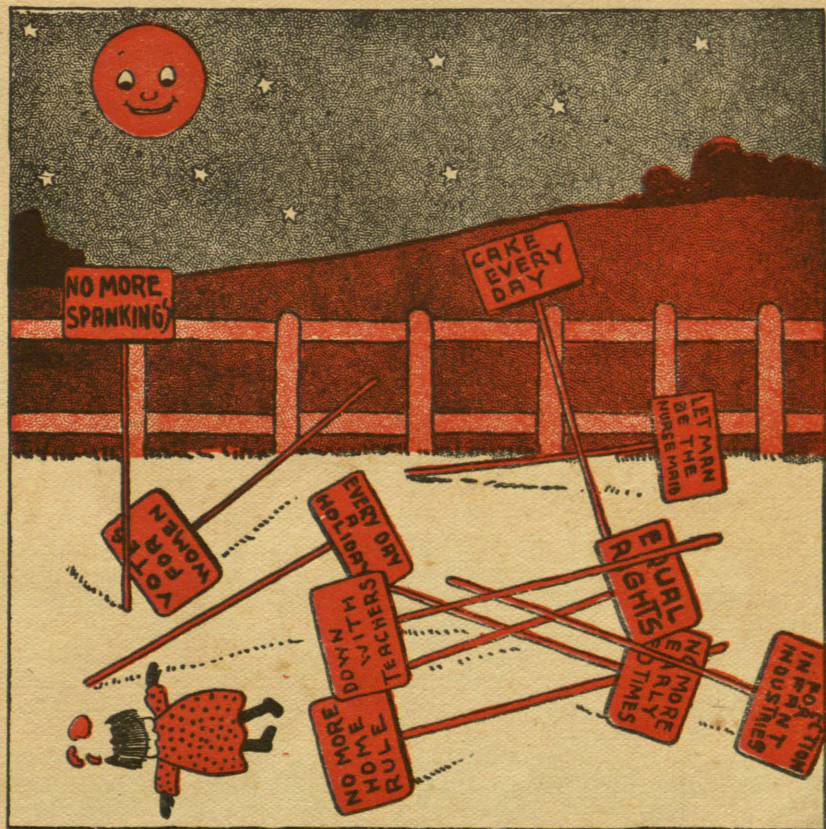

Four little Suffergets,
Ride a raft, in glee:
One tumbles overboard,
And then there are three.

Three little Suffergets
Lessons will not do:
One gives the teacher flowers,
Then there are two.

Two little Suffergets
All day romp and run:
One meets the Sandman,
And then there is one.

One lonely Sufferget
Thinks a doll no fun:
SHE breaks her dolly's head,
And then there is none!
